Elvis Swallows Cap of a Tooth

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A porcelain tooth cap has put Elvis Presley in the hospital.

The singer swallowed the cap Tuesday during a film dance number at MGM. It passed through the windpipe and into the lung.

It bothered him yesterday, so he was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where X-rays revealed its location. A doctor retrieved the cap, but a spokesman said Presley is expected to be out of action for another day or two.

With some people age makes them sensible — others just lack the strength to raise back.

50 Cotton Farmers Air Their Problems

Cotton producers are at a crossroads, farmers of the Hempstead County area were told here last night by H. T. Baber, District Director of organization of the Arkansas Farm Bureau.

Mr. Baber said that the existing program has led producers into a situation of too few acres to plant efficiently and a gradually disappearing market; whereas another route might give an opportunity for increased acreage and expansion of both domestic and foreign markets.

Mr. Baber was principal speaker for a meeting of about 50 cotton farmers conducted by Hempstead County Farm Bureau to determine whether producers desire to maintain the present cotton program or devise some alternative program which might reverse the trends toward smaller consumption and reduce acreage allotments.

Similar meetings are being held in other counties of Arkansas and other cotton-producing states, where farmers are being asked if they want to develop an alternative plan to be included in this fall's cotton referendum.

In selling out the current situation of the cotton industry, the speaker pointed to these factors which have contributed to cotton's weakened position:

1. Carryover of cotton has been building up rapidly in recent years.

2. Domestic consumption has not been keeping pace with population increases.

3. Cotton has failed to share in the expanded world fiber market.

4. Acreage under allotments has decreased.

5. Yields per acre have gone up.

6. The price of cotton has placed it at a severe competitive disadvantage in the domestic and foreign markets.

Following the talk, the meeting was thrown open for discussion by N. B. Coleman, presiding officer.

At the conclusion of the meeting a show of hands indicated that the counties in attendance would hold a meeting on Monday night, May 20th to make final recommendations and plans for attending a State Meeting in Little Rock, June 1st.

The Hempstead County meeting Monday night will be held at 8:00 p. m. in the Farm Bureau Office, Front Street, Hope, Ark. All cotton producers are invited.

Jewish Mayor of Dublin Ends Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jewish lord mayor of Dublin, tired but happy, has ended a two-month visit to the United States.

Mayor Robert Briscoe took off for home last night on a KLM Dutch airliner co-piloted by his son Abraham.

Briscoe said he made at last three speeches every day in his tour of 48 U.S. cities, except in Boston, where he gave 36 talks in two days.

Briscoe said Americans are not hard-balled or cold individuals and that "they hope, just as we do, that the world will become a better place to live in."

Dust Collector Real Friend to Housewives

BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Ever hear of a professional dust collector?

Well, there is one. He's Dr. Nathan Weiner, friend of the American housewife, who collects two tons of house dust a year, purifies it, and concentrates it.

The concentrate is then used to immunize hundreds of thousands of persons allergic to dust.

Take it from Dr. Weiner, former Harvard faculty chemist who now is research director for Endo Laboratories, the problem of house dust isn't to be sneezed at.

"About 70 per cent of people who suffer from bronchial asthma are sensitive to house dust," he said. "It can be dangerous to them."

"Allergy is as nearly a universal affliction as any I can think of," said Dr. Weiner. "It is a bond that links mankind."

"I doubt if there is a large percentage of people who aren't allergic to a degree to one substance or other," he said.

"There even have been cases of women who were found to be allergic to their husband's dandruff."

"House dust is one of the commonest causes of allergies," he said, "at least as common as any other well-known agent, such as goldfish and ragweed pollen during the hay fever season."

"The housewife usually thinks of dust as dirt — the particles of soil and ash that float into her home."

"That is not dust to us. The dust we are after is decomposed proteins from the breakdown of

Beck's Kinsman Fails to Appear Before Probers

By HERBERT FOSTER AND JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Norman Gessert, elusive kinsman of Teamsters President Dave Beck, failed to appear for a scheduled hearing before the Senate Rackets committee today.

Gessert arrived in Washington but did not show up at the Senate caucus room at the appointed time of 10:15 a. m. CST.

Shortly before 11 p. m. CST, Sen. John F. Kennedy, a committee member, said Gessert wanted time to confer with an attorney before testifying.

Sen. Kennedy said the committee would proceed with its earlier plan to recall beleaguered Dave Beck, who is possibly on the skids as Teamsters President, for questioning about more than a dozen charges that he misused his union power for private profit.

Gessert, a cousin of Mrs. Beck, is one of four persons the committee has been trying for weeks to subpoena. He was finally nailed with a subpoena yesterday in Ellensburg, Wash., after he tried to flee from police and a U. S. Marshal.

The subpoena ordered Gessert to report to the committee "forthwith." He arrived in Washington by plane shortly before noon.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Gessert will be asked "whether he was instructed to avoid cooperation with the committee and by whom."

Meanwhile, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) urged the rackets committee to make the same "searching scrutiny" of other cities that it did of Portland, Ore.

Neuberger said in a Senate speech that corruption and graft should be investigated but not on "selective basis." He said the hearings on alleged vice and corruption in Portland have tended to give that city a black eye.

Clean-up Drive Next Week in This City

In the next few days you will see and hear "Clean-Up Paint-Up Fix-Up" everywhere and perhaps you've been wondering why the city is so actively pushing this campaign.

Briefly, here are the reasons for Hope's campaign. Clean-Up Paint-Up Fix-Up produces health and safety, develops community spirit, reduces fire losses, teaches good housekeeping and respect for property.

It encourages landscaping of vacant lots, improves employee morale, discourages crime, stabilizes, restores and increases value of real estate, teaches youngsters a valuable civic lesson.

You can easily see that you can't afford not to support a campaign that offers so many values for you, your family and your home.

Why? Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up? For your future health, happiness, and well being, that's why!

The Garden Clubs, Civic Clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs, and the Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce are all sponsoring the clean up, fix up, paint up campaign. You will be contacted by one of these organizations in the next few days. The drive actively starts in Hope Monday, May 20 and continues through May 25.

Political Turmoil in Haiti Grows

By LARRY ALLEN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UP) — Haiti's political turmoil grew more violent today.

Ten thousand farmers armed with knives blockaded the road to the capital to keep our food supplies. Arson and sabotage were increasing. The government said troops and police were battling armed demonstrators in many communities to put down "a state of terror."

Army headquarters said the situation was critical.

The capital itself remained comparatively quiet.

The seven-man Executive Council, which is supposed to be arranging for elections June 16, banned freedom of speech and censored the press, radio and judiciary in a desperate attempt to restore order.

Husband of 13 Year-Old Girl Fined in Court

HOT SPRINGS (AP) — The teenage husband and the parents of a 13-year-old bride were fined for contributory delinquency here yesterday and the judge threatened more serious charges against the youth if he continues to live with the girl.

Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis directed the threat against 17-year-old Harold Graves, scheduled to graduate from high school tonight, after he had fined Graves $50 and assessed a similar penalty against Mr. and Mrs. James H. Spearman.

The former Sanders Spearman, who married Graves at Vicksburg, Miss., last Saturday protested that she didn't want to give up her husband of four days.

"We don't want a divorce, we want to live together," she said.

Testimony before Lewis was that the boys' parents and Spearman attended the wedding.

The girl said she and Graves had been dating since last August. She said they took an apartment in Hot Springs after they were married but that each returned to the parental home after yesterday's trial.

Alvin Sam Anderson, who represented the defendants, declared that Lewis should disqualify himself in the case and said he would seek a writ of prohibition against the judge if the latter permitted other charges.

Anderson said the marriage was legal in Mississippi and that made it legal in Arkansas even though it could not have been performed in this state. A girl as young as 13 may not be married in Arkansas even with parental consent.

If the Graves marriage is void, Anderson said, then so are several thousand other marriages of Arkansians who were wed in Mississippi.

Soil Bank Plan Killed by Vote of the House

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson returns today to Capitol Hill — this time to salvage what he can of his botched soil bank program.

In a political revolt sparked by Democratic foes of the Eisenhower administration's farm policies, the House yesterday voted 192-187 to kill Benson's yearling plan to subsidize surplus crop reduction this year.

The House action was a blow to the administration's program for reducing farm surpluses. It found Republicans as well as Democrats blaming Benson for what they called waste and mismanagement.

As a witness before the Senate Agriculture Committee yesterday, the embattled Benson said the entire farm program needs an overhaul. He said government farm aid to farmers will continue to be expensive until surplus production is cut.

Meanwhile, the old "Brannan plan" was being dusted off by House Democrats led by Rep. Whitten (D-Miss.), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee. Charles F. Brannan was secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration.

Once repudiated by the House in 1949, this "two-price plan" would insure farmers of government price supports at 100 per cent of parity for that portion of their crops sold for domestic consumption, with the remainder sold at a market price without support.

Whitten said today he would introduce a two-price support bill shortly.

Sponsored by Rep. Harrison (D-Va.), the soil bank cutoff was presented to the House as a temporary injunction against further soil bank spending until Congress can reappraise its value. It would bar any payments after June 30.

Monkey Trapped

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They finally caught Mike the monkey yesterday after he had been annoying North Philadelphia residents for two months.

Richard Gulons was eating breakfast when Mike came bounding in through an open window. Police who were called in the chase the monkey knocked over crockery, started an automatic washer and opened the refrigerator. They finally trapped him in a kitchen cabinet.

No one knows who owns him.

The tornado hit the southwest corner of the town's residential section. Higley said it looked as if the funnel snatched squarely upon five houses in a row. There was nothing left of them but the foundations.

"Cars looked as if a giant had picked them up in his fist and crushed them," Higley said. "I saw two cars that had been picked up from a street and dropped 100 yards away in a field."

There were two big tank trucks 75 yards off the road in a field and a school bus was turned over.

The tornado knocked out Silverton's communications and lights. State police units from Amarillo and county and local officers from surrounding towns rushed in with portable generators and radio transmitters.

Among the injured treated at Lockney Hospital were five members of the Joe D. Gallington family. Three other members of

The governor will be a guest of Warner Bros., producer of the movie. The visit will start a week from today.

White House Shows Signs of Ghosts

WASHINGTON (UP) — Is the White House haunted? Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty last night hinted — or did he — that possibly a ghost or two flourishes in the old mansion despite its recent renovation.

A reporter asked Hagerty on ABC's TV "press conference" whether — as an Irishman, of course — he had ever heard of such anything of ghosts in the White House.

"No, I haven't," Hagerty said. "But seriously the President has told me more than once that the presence that he feels more than anyone else is Abraham Lincoln when he is in the White House."

Hagerty said, however, President Eisenhower has not heard Lincoln.

The reporter who asked Hagerty the question noted he has read that Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands met Lincoln face to face in the White House.

He said he also has read that Mrs. Roosevelt saw ghosts.

Moreover, Mrs. Lincoln herself was reported to have insisted that often at night she heard the ghosts of Andrew Jackson swearing and Thomas Jefferson playing his violin.

And that's not all. She also said (sotto voce) she heard old John Tyler wailing his 20-year-old second wife.

Labels Move a British Surrender

CAIRO (UP) — The government-backed newspaper Al Shaab today labeled British Prime Minister Macmillan's decision to let British ships play the Suez Canal again "a British surrender and an Egyptian victory."

Macmillan's announcement in the House of Commons yesterday was seen by some Egyptian quarters as a sign British-Egyptian relations "are gradually" coming back to normal.

"There must be a step-by-step conditioning of the Egyptian public's mind before a full resumption of diplomatic relations," said another source. "I am confident that will come a little later."

Arab Kings Plan More Cooperation
BAGHDAD (AP) King Feisal of Iraq and King Saud of Saudi Arabia reportedly are winding up their talks here with a pledge to coordinate their resistance to communism and a warning that no Arab state should meddle in the affairs of its Arab neighbors.

Observers saw this as a pointed hint to Syria and Egypt, who have been accused of fomenting trouble in Iraq and Jordan. They considered it a triumph for the Western Premier Nuri Said of Iraq and another setback for Egyptian President Nasser's desire to lead the Arab world.

Iraq has been a major target of Egyptian and Syrian propaganda because of its adherence to the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact and its refusal to follow Nasser's lead.

The groundwork for the hatchet-burying was laid in February when Saud and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah of Iraq visited Washington at the same time and met there.

Jordan's King Hussein reportedly had the backing of Saud when he kicked his troops last month by throwing out the leftist, pro-Egyptian government of Suleiman Nabulsi. Hussein accused Egypt and Syria of aiding his enemies in the crisis.

Damage Suit in Traffic Accident
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The widow of showman Nils T. Graulund, who was killed in a traffic collision here April 21, was filed a $100,000 damage suit in District Court. Mrs. Rose Maud Graulund, who had been separated from her husband many years, brought the action against E. P. Brown, cab company owner. Don Miller, 42, driver of the cab in which Graulund was riding when the accident occurred; and William Meadams, 32, driver of the other car involved in the collision.

Mrs. Graulund alleged that the defendants were guilty of recklessness or negligence.

wool, cotton and other organic materials in the home — such as pillows and upholstery stuffing. The foreign proteins in this dust, breathed into the body, cause the allergic reaction.

Dr. Weiner gets his dust from mattress manufacturers and upholstering firms. If you have any idea of sending your boy through college by selling Dr. Weiner the dust from your old sofa, abandon the thought.

"As of now," he said, "we are satisfied with our present sources of supply."

The 4,000 pounds of rough dust he uses each year go through eight purification stages and emerge as 10 to 20 pounds of pure house dust concentrate, enough for two million sneezing fits. The stuff no longer really is a dust, but a brown syrupy mixture that looks like molasses.

"No matter how dust-free a woman keeps her own home," said Dr. Weiner, "she can't control the dust in other places she goes, such as restaurants, movies, hotels and other people's homes."

"The only other solution I know would be to walk around in a space helmet."

the same family were hurt, but not badly enough to remain in the hospital.

Claude Wilcox of the Plainview Hospital and Clinic said the injured were "badly beaten up." Five were treated in the Plainview hospital.

One of these, a boy about 14, died shortly after he was received.

The ones we have here are all severely injured, Wilson said. "They have brain concussions, all of them, are in critical shape."

DALLAS, (AP) More than 20 tornadoes lashed Texas yesterday, killing at least 19 persons, injuring scores of others and inflicting heavy property damage.

All of the deaths were at Silverton, 65 miles southeast of Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle, where a vicious twister roared through the small town of 357 population at 10:30 p. m.

All regular lines of communication into the plains town were wiped out. The Red Cross, death toll of 13 was compiled from Department of Public Safety, short-wave reports from the devastated town.

At least 68 persons were injured, many of them critically.

The tornado ripped through an eight-block area in the southwest part of Silverton, destroying 25 houses, a cotton gin, four properties and a warehouse. At least 30 other homes were damaged.

The Silverton tornado climaxed the 28th straight day of violent weather in Texas.

With the exception of two twisters, all of yesterday's tornadoes were in the Panhandle and South Plains area. One man was injured near Claremore, north of Silverton, as the funnels zig-zagged across the prairie county.

Torrential downpours and violent hailstorms accompanied the tornadoes and sent streams roaring over highways and into low lands.

DOROTHY DIX

Families Hassle Over Reception Guest List

Dear Dorothy Dix: I love you, girl. Your article saying that the parents of a bride are responsible for her wedding was enlightening. Now will you say a word about how many guests the groom's family can invite? Is there a ratio? Can the groom's family take over the wedding reception, order music, wines, dictate the place, and leave nothing to the bride's father but expenses?

BRIDE-TO-BE
Dear Bride-To-Be: I love you, too, and hope the wedding and reception rise above these preposterous arguments (which are standard procedure in most weddings) to be a wonderful beginning to a happy married life.

Although the bride's father foots the bills, the wedding is still the concern of the young couple. Anybody who spoils the occasion by petty bickering should be exiled to the choir loft.

The groom's family does not dictate anything — it's to be hoped, though, that the considerate distaff side will consult with them.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a troublesome problem which to you may seem trivial. My parents have never given me sex instruction. No matter how many times I ask, they evade the subject. Don't tell me to go to the library for a book. I know they have one, but I am terribly ashamed to ask for it. Can you tell me where to send for articles on the subject?

Dear Leah: There's no need to feel embarrassed about asking for the book. Your librarian is a very sympathetic person (I never knew one who wasn't). She understands the difficulties of young girls, and would handle the situation with delicacy.

If you have baby-sitting money you can spend on a book. I'll be happy to send a list of excellent ones. Ask for the leaflet, Sex Instruction For Teen-Agers, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. This will tell you where to send for the literature.

Dear Dorothy Dix: A few years ago my son was dating a girl of another faith and I made him break it off. Now I find myself in the same position. I've been going with a very fine lady of another religion. We're both older and there won't be any family, but my son, who is now happily married to a girl of his own faith, holds the past over my head.

Dear Basil: Since things turned out so well for your son, he should be convinced that father knows best. Your case is quite different from his. The usual problems in a marriage between people of different faiths concern in-laws and religious education of children, and these do not effect a mature couple. If you've found the makings of a good wife, marry her.

Planters Stymied by Heavy Rains
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Cotton planters still are stymied by heavy rains in many counties, the federal-state Crop Reporting Service said today.

Land preparation and planting was under way at a rapid rate on well-drained land early last week, the report said, but field work was interrupted by heavy showers in most of the state.

Israel to Run a Test Ship Through Canal

By WALTER LOGAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

Israel announced today it will send a ship into the Suez Canal "in the near future" to test the Egyptian blockade of Israeli shipping through the vital waterway.

The "test ship" plan was announced by foreign ministry spokesman Moshe Leshem in Jerusalem. But Leshem denied reports that the vessel was already on its way or would sail within one week.

Informed sources said earlier that the test could come "at any moment."

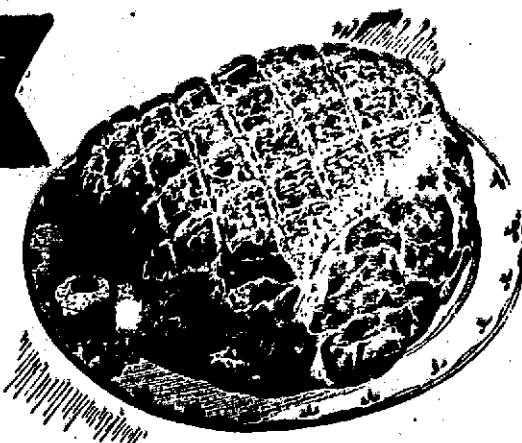

They said the blockade-running project was being readied in the wake of the decision of Britain and other maritime nations to resume use of the waterway nationalized by Egypt last summer.

The sources said the only thing holding up the Israeli test was France's reluctance to join the other nations who have given the go-ahead for use of the canal by their ships.

CHAPTER XXI

Piero came back and slid onto his stool. He took a sip of his martini. "Acattolico degli Stranieri," he said.

"Isn't that the same place the Pericoloso girl is buried?" I asked.

He nodded.

I lit a cigarette. "Let me see your hands," I said.

He held them out, palms up. "The palms are a little soft," I remarked, "but your nerves seem steady enough. Are you officially off duty?"

"Yes." He was mystified, but he wasn't going to give me the satisfaction of asking questions. "Let's get going."

"Where to, master?"

"Acattolico degli Stranieri," I said cheerfully. "We are about to become grave robbers."

He stared at me with his mouth open.

"Close your mouth, son. There are flies around this time of year."

"Who?" he managed. "Perrara?"

"Pericoloso," I said.

His mouth was open again. "It's illegal," he said.

"Somebody told you," I said. So is this gun I'm wearing — which you gave to me. Before this case is over we'll probably do a number of illegal things. Of course, if you're afraid —

He groaned. "Before this thing is over, you'll either have me made chief of police or put in prison for life. I thought it was we Italians who were suppose to be mad."

His car was parked near the hotel. We loaded the tools into it and got started. I told him where the doctor lived.

"The doctor lived a little high on the brandy I'd given him, but it was just beginning to wear off. He was just loaded enough and anxious for more to go through with the job. He bowed gravely when I introduced him to Piero.

We parked beside the cemetery, away from the gates. We slid the tools through the fence and then we climbed over. It took a little boosting for the doctor to make it. The grave wasn't hard to find. There was one section where the were putting all the new graves. There was already a headstone with Anna Maria's name on it. There was just enough starlight for us to see what we were doing so we wouldn't have to risk our flashlights until later.

We were both out of breath when we finally reached the coffin. We carefully scraped the dirt off the top of it and raised the lid. I thrust my hand down with a flashlight in it and flicked on the light.

She had been beautiful — was even beautiful in death. She was dressed in a white satin gown and for the first time I felt a twinge over what we were about to do. I let the beam of light glide back up to her face.

I'm not sure why I made the next move. Maybe it was only a hunch, maybe something deep in my subconscious. But I jumped down into the grave and bent over the dead girl. I bent down, reaching into the coffin to turn the girl's head to one side. I moved the flashlight closer and stared.

"For heaven's sake, Milo," Piero said, "get out of there and let the doctor get to work and get it over with."

I let out my breath in a long sigh and straightened up. "Help me out, Piero."

He reached down his hand and I managed to leap out of the grave. Dr. Tentini was standing beside Piero, staring owlishly into the grave.

"I understand," he said, "that you want part of all the organs for examination?"

"No," I said and realized that

Child is Abducted and Murdered

BRISTOL, Conn., May 15 — A pretty, blonde 8-year-old girl was abducted on her way to school and slain yesterday.

The body of Brenda Jane Doucette, a third grader, was found in the woods just outside Bristol last night with a man's sleeveless sweater wrapped tightly around her neck.

An autopsy showed she had not been raped nor was there any evidence of an attempted sexual attack, said Deputy Coroner Frank Healey.

Brenda's body was found fully clothed at 7:50 p.m. in a clump of bushes nearly four hours after she had been reported missing by her father, Baxter Doucette.

Dr. Irving S. Platt, medical examiner, said the child apparently was slain shortly after leaving for school.

The spot where her body was found is in the opposite direction from school and about 3 1/2 miles from the home where she lived with her parents and 4-year-old brother David.

Thought For The Day

Seven Guides to Mental Health.
Guides To Mental Health, by Henry Harrington, No. 7 in the series:

And lastly, don't think that you can get along without religion. It has been tried. The sanitariums and asylums are the homes of thousands of poor souls who thought they were self-sufficient. A great upheaval perhaps not so great occurred in their lives, and when the seas subsided, their feet were on quicksand which let them down.
Remember the man who "bulldozed his house upon the rock."

Zimmer May Be at End of
His Hard Luck

MILWAUKEE UP Maybe Don Zimmer's hard luck days are over at last.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' gritty little infielder didn't think he'd play against the Milwaukee Braves yesterday because he had some blisters in 14 days.

But he did, and for the second time this season he belted a 10th inning home run to give the Dodgers a one-run victory.

Zimmer's first-pitch homer off reliever Lew Burdette gave Clem Labine also working in relief, the decision 3-2 last April 26.

He sank the Chicago Cubs 1-0 with a homer in the 10th.

Zimmer's double that 0 for 14 string is battling 214 with four batters and 10 runs belted in.
But of more importance is that he has played in all of the club's 24 games for him, it's quite an

Lawrence and Wilson Setting a Red Hot Pace

By JOE REICHLER
Of The Associated Press

Pitchers Jim Wilson of the Chicago White Sox and Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs finally are making batters out of the doubting Thomases.

It is strange that Wilson and Lawrence, despite generally effective pitching usually with mediocre ball clubs, rarely have impressed veteran observers.

Lawrence won his fourth game of the season last night, pitching Cincinnati to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia. The win boosted the Redlegs back into a tie with Milwaukee for the National League lead.

The 22-year-old right-hander permitted only five hits and fanned 11.

Wilson pitched Chicago to a 5-0 triumph over Washington, enabling the White Sox to retain their first-place lead of half a game over the New York Yankees in the American League. The 35-year-old right-hander yielded only four hits en route to his second successive shutout, and third of the season.

Lawrence's record is 4-1.
Effective pitching by Don Drysdale and Clem Labine and Don Zimmer's 10th-inning home run combined to give Brooklyn a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated the New York Giants 6-5 in 14 innings when Hal Smith singled home Del Ennis from second.

Tom Sturdivant's five-hitter featured the Yankees' 3-0 shutout over Kansas City. Cleveland cracked five singles in the 10th inning off Mike Fornieles to score three times and defeat Baltimore 11-8 in a 4-hour marathon that involved 38 players, including 11 pitchers.

Brooklyn's Red Sox (as they were called) pitched their best game of the season, to outslug
the Detroit Tigers 11-8.

George Crowe, subbing for the ailing Ted Kluszewski at first base, drove in two runs in Cincinnati's victory with a pair of singles, but it was Smokey Burges' second-inning home run that put the Reds in front.

Zimmer's game-winning home run for Brooklyn came off Lew Burdette, who had relieved Milwaukee starter Gene Conley in the eighth. The Dodgers tied the score in that inning. Gil Hodges homered off for Brooklyn.

A three-up-and-three-down three-inning relief effort earned Larry Jackson his fourth relief victory for the Cardinals.

The Cards, after tying the score at 5-5 in the seventh, scored the winning run off Allen Worthington.

Walt Dropo, Chicago's partime first baseman, was the big offensive gun as the White Sox won their fourth straight. The big guy slammed his fourth homer in the sixth and singled across a run in the eighth.

Rocky Colavito drove in Gene Woodling with the tie-breaking run in the eighth. The Indians added two more on singles by Chico Carrasquel and George Strickland to score three runs in the 10th. Cleveland had scored three runs in the 14th to break a 5-5 tie, but the Orioles roared back with three runs if their own to tie it up again.

All three Yankee runs were scored in the first inning. The victim was Ned Garver, who gave the Yankees only three hits in six innings.

Veteran first baseman Mickey Manzie drove in four runs and Jackie Jensen hit Boston's victory over Detroit. George Sizemore, third Boston pitcher, was the winner. Frank Lary lost it.

Racing Driver Is Killed in an Accident

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—
The racing fraternity mourned the death of Keith Andrews today and wondered what his crash in a 500-mile race would mean to the new season.

The Italian's plans to compete in the 500-mile speedway classic, Andrews, 38, Colorado Springs pilot, was instantly killed yesterday doing a practice spin around the two and one-half mile brick and asphalt oval.

He lost control of the sleek, maroon-colored car on the northwest turn, slammed into the inside retaining wall at a speed of about 100 m. p. and died of broken neck and internal injuries.

The tall section of the American made car, which Andrews purchased to race here and in Monza, Italy, was a twisted heap of metal — apparently too badly wrecked to be repaired in time for the qualifications which open Saturday and end May 24.

Andrews, who competed in the last two 500-milers but failed to finish in the money, was survived by his wife and two daughters.

Parina, a future driver and frustrated, left the track shortly after the crash. Chicago's Marshall Thompson, 31, was the winner.

Greenbrier Motel Attracts Hogan

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.
Va. (UP)—Ben Hogan, making one of his frequent tournament appearances, moved into Sam Shed's own backyard today for the opening round of the Greenbrier Open golf tournament.

A record field of 48 top professionals were entered in the $10,000, 72-hole event, which will be conducted over two courses at the swank Greenbrier hotel, where Shed is the home pro.

Hogan, who has appeared in only three tournaments this year, won the Greenbrier title in 1954 when he tied the world's record for a championship tournament with a blistering 21-under-par 259.

The little Texan has been practicing on the two well-manicured, par-70 courses for three days and admitted he was "hitting them pretty well."

Boyd Takes Decision
Over Willie

CHICAGO (UP) Bobby Boyd, who was bombed from the No. 2 middleweight rankings by Joey Gar-dio eight months ago, has a long way yet to go in his attempt to gain top contention.

The lanky, 23-year-old, Chicagan, was not too impressive last night in winning his third straight fight since the Giardello incident with a split, 10-round, decision over Willie Vaughn.

Boyd, whose 43 victories in 52 bouts includes 22 kayos, displayed little of the punching power that had him at the top before Giardello pulverized him in five rounds at Cleveland.

Vaughn, connected with several good overhand rights to the jaw
the same punch that victimized Boyd in the Giardello episode. But the Los Angeles fighter didn't have the power to bother his gangly foe.
He has only seven kayos in 50 starts.

Vaughn was substituted for Rocky Castellani against Boyd when Rocky suffered an eye injury.

Vaughn said he only had 10 days to prepare for Boyd and could not get in the condition he would have liked. As it was, the fighters spent most of the time tying each other up and in only two late rounds did Boyd show signs of his old self, standing away and leveling with his long rights and lefts.
